THE TASC AUDIT GUARANTEE

The TASC Audit Guarantee. TASC provides an Audit Guarantee where TASC will assume financial responsibility for any penalty and/or interest charged as a result of an audit requiring the payment of federal, state, Social Security or Medicare taxes as it pertains to a TASC Subscription Service. TASC will also assume financial responsibility for any penalty issued by the Internal Revenue Service or Department of Labor as it pertains to a TASC Subscription Service. The amount or reimbursement under the Audit Guarantee is – OR – is not subject to the limitations in liability stated in the TASC USA.

Limits on the TASC Audit Guarantee. The Purchaser further understands and acknowledges that the Audit Guarantee for any penalty and/or interest charged as a result of an audit requiring the payment of federal, state, Social Security or Medicare taxes as it pertains to a TASC Subscription Service and any penalty issued by the Internal Revenue Service or Department of Labor as it pertains to a TASC Subscription Service, is only in effect when the Purchaser adheres to proper Plan procedures spelled out in the Service Manuals and other TASC communications, and that the Audit Guarantee will not cover any penalties or taxes for items that are not assigned to TASC under the terms of a Subscription Service. The TASC Audit Guarantee will not cover taxes or penalties resulting from items that are not under TASC's control, such as the use of documents created by third parties, exceptions made to standard practices by the Purchaser, factual findings such as whether an actual employment relationship exists, or nonstandard service parameters that were set up at the direction of the Purchaser. The Purchaser is responsible for the payment of any fines and penalties which may arise in connection with any delinquent items, unless the delinquency was caused by TASC's negligence or failure to perform a required duty as defined and limited in the Service Manuals and other TASC communications, and the Purchaser delivered to TASC all of the necessary information and data needed for TASC to timely perform the duty, which may vary depending on the nature of the duty and in any event will not be less than fifteen (15) business days prior to the due date.

The Purchaser will cooperate and provide all data needed for TASC to complete a discrimination assessment, sometimes referred to as the 33% test. This is not "Discrimination Testing" as defined by the IRS. It is an assessment TASC completes to assess its risk under the Audit Guarantee. If the results of the discrimination assessment are not favorable TASC recommends the TASC Discrimination Testing Service. TASC may require the Purchaser modify any service parameters to maintain the Audit Guarantee.

Non Excepted Health Plans – No Audit Guarantee. A Purchaser who offers a non-excepted health plan (one that fails to meet the requirements defined by 45 CFR 146, 29 CFR 2590) is responsible for ensuring the Plan meets all applicable regulations for non-excepted health plans. The additional requirements are not provided by TASC and the non-excepted health plan is not covered under the Audit Guarantee.

TASC PURCHASER TERMS OF USE

FEES AND INVOICING

Fees and Invoicing. TASC will invoice Purchasers in accordance with its customary procedures, as amended from time to time. TASC can terminate access to its Site and Services for non-payment or violation of those procedures. TASC will provide detailed invoicing instructions at the time of the purchase and on request. TASC will collect reasonable attorney's fees associated with the collection of unpaid fees. TASC invoices in advance.

Per Participant Per Month Invoicing. For account based services, TASC fees are calculated on the number of known Participants at the time the invoice is generated, subject to a minimum administrative fee. A Participant is anyone who has elected to participate in a TASC account. A Participant remains a Participant from the time of election to the date they are no longer allowed access to submit activity (such as the end of the run out period to submit claims).

Account Funding. TASC will monitor the funding of accounts monthly as well as quarterly to ensure that funding amounts are not going into arrears due to high claim reimbursement volumes, at which time TASC will require additional funding. At the end of any Service or Plan Year (within the Plan run-out end), TASC will provide a forfeiture report of past year claims versus funding received. If the account has a positive balance, Purchaser's will have the choice to receive a refund for that amount or to apply it to the current years funding. Should the account be in arrears at that time, TASC will invoice the Purchaser.

SERVICE SPECIFIC TERMS OF USE

Subscription Service Terms – In General. TASC will monitor the funding of accounts monthly as well as quarterly to ensure that funding amounts are not going into arrears due to high claim reimbursement volumes, at which time TASC will require additional funding. At the end of any Service or Plan Year (within the Plan run-out end), TASC will provide a forfeiture report of past year claims versus funding received. If the account has a positive balance, Purchaser's will have the choice to receive a refund for that amount or to apply it to the current years funding. Should the account be in arrears at that time, TASC will invoice the Purchaser.

Documents. The Purchaser understands that documents made available by TASC are lawyer authored boilerplate legal documents designed to fulfill specific compliance requirements, such as Plan Documents/Summary Plan Descriptions when applicable. Customization is limited to a standard set of required fields. These documents may not meet the needs of Purchasers with a complex plan design and/or funding arrangements, or those requiring customization above and beyond the standard set of required fields. TASC recommends said Purchaser contact legal counsel to draft specific terms to meet their needs. This can be done by amendment that is attached to the TASC documents.

Participant Certifications for Account Based Services. The following terms apply to Participants who are enrolled in a TASC Account Based Service including but not limited to, Flexible Spending Accounts, Health Reimbursement Arrangements (HRAs), Health Savings Accounts (HSA). The Purchaser agrees that the following Participant Certifications are necessary legal requirements for the use of a tax advantaged account services for all Participants. By using the TASC tax advantaged account Subscription Service, the Participant agrees to the statements below, which are made in advance of any use, and at each time the Participant submits a reimbursement request.

Participant Certification. The Participant understands and certifies that each expense submitted for reimbursement has actually been incurred and has not previously been reimbursed (i.e., there is no "double-dipping"), and reimbursement will not be sought from any other source, such as another health plan for medical tax advantaged account services.

Double Dipping. It is the Participant's responsibility to make sure that any funds received tax free from a TASC Subscription Service are not claimed or deducted in any other form, manner, or under any program. Generally, any tax free tem can only be deducted once.

Participant Certification. The Participant understands and certifies that upon enrollment in a TASC Subscription Service that includes the use of a TASC Debit Card, for the immediate service year and any service year thereafter, that the card will only be used for legitimate eligible expenses, limited to persons eligible for reimbursement. This Certification is printed on the back of the TASC Debit Card and reaffirmed each time the TASC Debit Card is used. The Participant acknowledges that the TASC Debit Card will be shut off and should not be used after the Participant's termination of employment.

TASC PURCHASER TERMS OF USE

Example. A Participant who enrolls in a health FSA or HRA will limit the use of a TASC Debit Card, to eligible medical care expenses defined by the IRS in § 213(d) of the Insurance Code, limited to the employee and the employee's spouse and dependents. (TASC will provide detail on items allowed for each type of Subscription Service.)

Tax Advantaged Account Substantiation Requirement. All claims for tax advantaged account plans, other than substantiated copayments, recurring medical expenses, debit card charges substantiated in real time through an inventory information approval system, or through other means compliant with Internal Revenue Service regulations, must be substantiated by independent third-party information prior to claim payment. If, at any point, the Purchaser makes the decision to adjudicate claims, all claims and substantiation submitted to TASC by Participants shall be forwarded to the Purchaser for review prior to payment of the claim by TASC. If the Purchaser does not reject the claim within three (3) business days of receiving the forwarded claim, TASC shall pay the claim.

Claims Feed. If a claim feed is elected by the Purchaser, the Purchaser appoints TASC and/or its subcontractors or agents to act as an authorized agent for purposes of receiving and/or retrieving electronic reports/responses ("Claim Feed Information") from the insurance carrier(s) or third party administrator as directed by the Purchaser.

Continuation Services. TASC does not have the discretion to allow any exceptions to legally established deadlines under federal or state continuation. TASC will retain the two percent (2 %) administrative fee charged to Participants for continuing coverage.

TASC will have no liability for an excise tax for the failure to send any required COBRA notices until fourteen (14) days after complete data necessary for TASC to issue the notice has been provided to TASC in a mutually approved format.

Purchasers who have individual rated premium will need to send to TASC the actual individual rates billed by the insurer for each person who is covered under the Plan (Participant, covered spouse and dependents as indicated on the carriers itemized bill) on the day before a COBRA Qualifying Event. The Purchaser will notify TASC of any mid-year premium rate changes applicable to the COBRA Qualified Beneficiaries premium, for example reaching a new age band.

Compliance Subscription Services. TASC provides a specific set of Compliance Subscription Services in accordance with applicable laws, using data and information provided by the Purchaser. The Purchaser understands that the Compliance Subscription Services are nondiscretionary, directed Services that are specifically designed to accommodate welfare benefit plans that qualify as single Purchaser plans ("SEPs"). All legal determinations regarding the Compliance Subscription Service(s) are made by the Purchaser, by way of examples:

- The determination of whether the Purchaser's Participants can be included in a single plan document or multiple plan documents,
- The number of Form 5500s due, and the decision on filing delinquent returns, and
- 'Control group' status under applicable IRS regulations.

The Purchaser understands that Compliance Subscription Services can only be correctly accomplished and will only reach the desired outcome when there is real-time cooperation between the Parties. For example, FMLA Services require a host of timely notices concerning Participant absences that cannot be sent without the Purchaser's involvement and diligence.

Funded Plans. The Purchaser acknowledges that TASC is not acting as a trustee, custodian, or investment advisor for a Health Savings Account (HSA) or Funded HRA Accounts, and is not acting as such. TASC is only acting as a "record-keeper" with respect to the accounts, in a manner that does not require any federal or state license. TASC provides Subscription Services under an agreement with one or more third party financial institutions that serve as custodian and trustee of the funds ("Custodian"), or provide investment options for accountholders. The Custodian and Investment Advisors under federal and state law, and not TASC, are responsible for claims, damages or liabilities arising from failure of Custodian or Investment Advisors to perform its obligations or provide resources as required by its agreement with TASC and its accountholders. The Purchaser acknowledges that TASC may, from time to time, change the Custodian and may subcontract other aspects of its performance. TASC may not, however, require any accountholders to close an HSA with the then-current Custodian.

TASC shall have no responsibility with respect to contributions made by the Purchaser, Participant, other contributor, or transferor, other than to allocate the contributions in accordance with clear instructions received from the Purchaser, Participants, other contributor or transferor. TASC shall have no obligation to take affirmative actions to collect monies paid as contributions, such as, by way of example, to pursue a check or electronic payment transfer that does not clear.

TASC PURCHASER TERMS OF USE

Optional TASC HRA Pre-Funding Arrangement. TASC allows Purchasers to advance claim payments to Participants before the full reimbursement amount is present in the Participant's account. TASC, not the Purchaser, fronts the necessary funds to reimburse Participant claims. This allows TASC to reimburse Participant claims on a daily basis. A Funding Arrangement amount based on an estimated utilization factor is established at the beginning of each Plan Year. The utilization factor varies depending on the benefits offered and is designed as a floor amount, thus allowing the Purchaser a way to establish their personal comfort level related to Plan risk. Once established, this set monthly amount is transferred from the Purchaser's account directly to TASC via ACH debit. These funds are used to reimburse Participant requests for reimbursement.

TASC PRIVACY POLICY

TASC Privacy Policy Notice. TASC reserves the right to use any data received, created, stored or transmitted in any manner that does not violate the Participant's rights under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, Public Law 104-191 ("HIPAA"), the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act, Public Law 111-005 (the "HITECH Act"), and regulations promulgated thereunder by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (the "HIPAA Regulations"), or any state privacy or identity theft law.

TASC takes Purchaser and Participant privacy very seriously. We share a commitment to protect the privacy and the confidentiality of all personal information, banking information, and protected health information. The information TASC collects and the extent to which it is used it will vary depending on the service involved. We collect only the information necessary to consistently deliver responsive services to Purchaser and Participant. Information collected may include, but is not necessarily limited to, the following: name, address, phone number, social security number, age, sex, information regarding your assets and income, employment status, dependent information, and other information provided on plan applications and related forms. TASC also maintains information about Purchaser and Participant relationships, such as payment history and account balances.

The information above may be obtained from Purchaser and Participant using various methods which may include information in writing or e-mail, during telephone or internet transactions, or from data gathering software when you are completing information on the TASC website. Non-public personal information may also be collected through Purchaser and Participant transactions with our contracted representatives, affiliates, and others.

TASC has implemented and maintains physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect non-public personal financial information. TASC will only use and share your non-public personal financial information to the extent minimally necessary and only with those Participants who use your information as a means to service your account. They are required to respect the confidentiality of all Purchaser information. TASC requires each unaffiliated third party under contract to assist in servicing your account to agree to abide by safeguards and privacy standards that are the same or substantially similar to those followed by TASC.

The privacy and security of your non-public personal financial information will be maintained beyond the termination of your relationship with TASC.

TASC may share any of your non-public personal and financial information with affiliated and unaffiliated third parties as otherwise permitted or required by law. For example, TASC may share your information to protect against or prevent fraud, or in response to a subpoena, court order, judicial process, or regulatory authorities. TASC may share information about Purchaser and Participant with our service providers, affiliates, and representatives to help service your accounts. TASC service providers, affiliates, and representatives may include TASC contracted Providers, and Wholesale and Association accounts. The information provided to these service providers, affiliates, and representatives may include the categories of information described above, and is limited to the information that TASC deems appropriate for these third parties to carry out their functions.

The Gramm–Leach–Bliley Act. The Gramm–Leach–Bliley Act limits the disclosure of your "nonpublic information" (NPI) to that as necessary for processing or administering card transactions. For example, disclosing nonpublic information to service providers who perform administrative activities for your account.

TASC is required to disclose certain types of information-sharing, including disclosures for purposes of preventing fraud, responding to judicial process or a subpoena, or complying with federal, state, or local laws. TASC would need assurances from any nonaffiliated party receiving NPI that they will not further disclose the NPI for any reason. TASC does not share any nonpublic information for marketing purposes, credit verification, or any other reason not stated in this Notice.

Red Flag Rules. TASC has implemented an 'Identity Theft Prevention Program' designed to detect the warning signs, or "red flags" in day-to-day operations, take steps to prevent ID theft, and mitigate the damage it inflicts. The program includes reasonable policies and procedures to identify the red flags of identity theft that TASC may run across in the day-to-day operation of its business.

TASC PURCHASER TERMS OF USE

TASC's written Identity Theft Protection Program related to the Red Flags Rule focuses on the protection of Personal Identifiable Information (PII). PII is information which can be used to distinguish or trace an individual's identity, such as their name, social security number, etc. alone, or when combined with other personal or identifying information which is linked or linkable to a specific individual, such as date and place of birth, etc.

- When a Participant changes their username or password, they will receive an email to the email address TASC has on file. When a Participant changes their direct deposit information, an email is sent to the email address on file.
- TASC completes a standard verification on every call. When a caller has been transferred to another TASC employee then the standard verification process will be repeated. The caller will be asked to provide three verification items such as their name, address, employer name, their email address, and other relevant information such as the callers annual election for an account based service.

Work Area Security. During work hours, paperwork containing non-public Personal Identifiable Information (PII), Protected Health Information (PHI) as defined by federal privacy law, and other sensitive items are secured providing protection against unauthorized access. Paperwork of this nature is kept in locked cabinets, drawers, or locked rooms, used as needed, and returned to the secure area when done with use. Paperwork containing PII, PHI or other sensitive items is locked in secured areas at the end of the workday. Computers are locked when TASC Employees are away from their work area, and shut down at the end of each workday. TASC's computer system is programmed to automatically lock a user's PC if it has been idle for 15 minutes. Login and password are required to re-access systems.

External Reporting. TASC has worked to mask personal identifiable information and limits information to the minimum necessary on reports that are sent externally.

Emails. TASC has implemented secure email software. All TASC Employees have been trained on the use of this encryption tool. All emails that contain PII, PHI or other sensitive items are sent using TASC's secure email system.

TASC's Network. TASC's network is protected through a multi-layered approach to security including firewalls, encryption, intrusion detection, packet filtering and anti-virus software. TASC's data center is housed in a secure environment and access is limited to only those TASC Employees with a need to have access.

The parties acknowledge:

- Time is of the essence in the resolution of conflicts. The parties shall act expeditiously to resolve any conflict.
- At TASC's sole discretion, where TASC Fees and required funding continue to be provided by the Purchaser, TASC may continue to carry out its responsibilities which are not affected by the conflict.

Upon receiving a written dispute, the TASC Account Manager (if one is assigned) or TASC Resolution Specialist will research the facts and circumstances related to the dispute. TASC strives to complete these investigations within ten (10) business days, which may be lesser or greater depending on the nature of the complaint. If the Account Manager or TASC Resolution Specialist cannot resolve your dispute, based on an agreement related to the facts discovered, the matter will be elevated to the TASC Legal Department or an Executive Vice President. If a resolution is not completed, and there are reasonable questions remaining, TASC at its discretion may present the dispute to the Chief Operating Officer or President for input.

TASC PURCHASER TERMS OF USE

Participant Appeals. The Purchaser ultimately decides if a Participant Appeal is approved or denied. TASC's role is to send facts pertinent to the case, provide guidance and assure the Participant is notified within 60 days of submitting the appeal.

If the initial review of the facts show a valid reason to allow the request without making an exception to any state or federal rules governing the service, and are within the parameters spelled out in the governing documents, such as the mailbox rule for a late payment, then TASC can approve and carry through with the action requested. This is only done when the facts are clear that the requested action is within the rules. TASC will not make exceptions to established rules, service protocols or any law or regulation.

All requests for exceptions are sent to the Purchaser for a determination. TASC does not approve any requests for exceptions.

TASC will follow the Department of Labor Adverse Determination rules spelled out under 29 CFR 2560.503-1 Claims procedure.

Important Notice Regarding Potential Losses: TASC recommends you receive sign off from your insurer(s) or stop loss carrier before you approve an appeal (or allow an exception) to any enrollment request. If you approve an appeal (or allow an exception) and your insurer(s) or stop loss carrier does not agree with your decision, then there can be losses and claims liability. TASC is not responsible and will not share in any liability for any loss or claim that results from an approved appeal or allowed exception that is not honored by your carrier(s).
